NO other six-cylinder car has ever earned, in any year, one-third the public acceptance... one-third the volume of sales... which have been bestowed upon Chevrolet Six during the nine months since its introduction.

This tremendous public acceptance is due to three outstanding facts. To the fact that Chevrolet offered, for the first time in history, a six at the price of a four... To the superb standard of quality in Chevrolet's design, material and workmanship. And to the new, greater performance abilities that Chevrolet Six provided.

Chevrolet Six was four years old in experiment, in research, in testing, in proving... before the first Chevrolet Six was placed in the hands of its owner. And that owner... like the thousands of others who followed his example... SOLD HIMSELF on the Chevrolet he bought... on the road, behind the wheel. Why not let us place a Chevrolet Six at your disposal... and form your own opinion of its value.

Should Modify School Bill

The resolution that the association of municipal districts passed by a three to two vote, declaring the new school act "unnecessary and unworkable," is further evidence of the widespread opposition to the measure. Since it was laid over for a year at the last session of the legislature, it has been the subject of extended debate throughout the province and there are few signs that the proposals are being looked upon more favorably by those whom they most directly affected. At the time the measure was introduced many who were quite convinced that reform of the existing system was imperative, and approved strongly of the ideas which the minister of education had set before them, held that his scheme went too far and had some impracticable features. This feeling has asserted itself in diverse quarters during the recent months. In a careful analysis of the bill that was made by W. F. Broadbent of Winkler, some weeks ago he took the ground that "any 'right thinking person will be in full accord with the minister's aims and will be more than willing to support any scheme that will bring them into effect, providing such scheme can possibly meet with success." The general board, however, he regards as unnecessary, as its duties can be discharged by other bodies at a much less cost. He would have all taxes and grants paid to the divisional boards, who would pay the teachers and turn over to the school districts the money that they require. The supervisor should, in his opinion, be independent of the department, apart from its seeing to it that he has the necessary qualifications. Inspectors should be increased in number so that every school will be visited by them for at least half a day in each term. It is the general board feature that has met with the most opposition and the indications are that it will have to be dropped and other alterations made if the bill is to be placed upon the statute books. The legislature must come to closer grips at the approaching session with the problem that the minister has brought to the forefront than it did a year ago. Much new light has been thrown upon it by the discussions that have taken place in the interval.

Our Curlers Organize

The adjourned meeting of the Lacombe Curling Club was held on Monday evening with Mr. Locke, Vice-President in the chair, and N. E. Caruthers acting as Secretary, in the absence of the regular officers. W. Sage and J. Hampson were appointed to superintend the making of ice, installation of telephones and necessary details preliminary to opening the rink. The following Committees were appointed: Executive: J. Hampson, A. Belcher, W. P. Parsons, A. M. Campbell and W. Sage. Membership: D. Hay, E. C. Chapman, E. M. Parsons. Draw: John Gilmour, E. C. Chapman and D. Hay. Resolutions were passed as follows: That fees for 1929-1930 be $15.00 for experienced curlers and $10.00 for green curlers, these fees to be paid when the names are secured; that the annual Lacombe Bonspiel be held on January 26th, 28th and 29th, 1930; that arrangements for the ladies' curling be left with the Executive. Appreciative and complimentary remarks were passed regarding the assistance given the club during the past season by the Lady curlers.

NO BASIS FOR THE CHARGE

"The Edmonton Journal" in its current issue "The U.F.A." accuses the London correspondent of being "clearly biased on the wheat side" in his despatches on the wheat situation. These are said to have done Canadian producers a great deal of harm through depressing prices. The charge is clearly an unfair one. Mr. Johnston's sympathies must be with the wheat growers in the struggle that has been under way, as are those of all Canadians who realize what it means to the country's prosperity to have a remunerative price secured for existing supplies. But it has been his duty to describe conditions as he has found them in Britain and to forward the statements to the leaders of the grain trade there. There would be no warrant for withholding the letter and Mr. Johnston, in sending them to Canada, has not expressed any opinion as to their accuracy. He is merely acting as a reporter in a matter of great public interest. Replies from post officials and others to the contentions of British importers have been repeatedly published at length in the Journal's news columns. Time and again with recent week's confidence has been expressed by this newspaper editorials that the policy being pursued by Canadian selling agencies would prove to be a sound one and that it would work out to the advantage of the farmers of western Canada. It is too early as yet to say definitely what will be the outcome. But the indications are at the moment that it will be a favorable one from the standpoint of the holders of Canadian wheat. Prices have shown surprising strength in view of the effect which demoralization in other markets was bound to have upon them. The prediction of the United States department of agriculture that an advance of twenty-five cents a bushel will take place within the next few weeks is most encouraging. It would hardly venture this if it were not convinced that it was well based. Export demand is manifesting itself across the border and there is good ground for believing it will steadily strengthen in the dominion. But whatever the final result may be, it is absurd to represent the Journal and its associated newspapers or their correspondents in London of "helping out the bears." Their best wishes are with those who have been striving to obtain the best possible returns for the western Canada wheat producers.

ALBERTA'S SHOWING AT TORONTO

The record of the Alberta exhibitors at the Royal Fair in Toronto, is one of which the province, and particularly its northern and central sections, has reason to be proud. It is no new thing, of course, for those engaged in the various branches of our agricultural activities to win great distinction. But each repetition of their success makes it more apparent to the outside world how great are the possibilities that Alberta offers to all who bring to its primary industry the qualities that it requires everywhere. The capture of two first spring wheat prizes by Dr. Frith, whose farm is in the east of Edmonton, and W. D. Albright of Beaverlodge, was followed by that of the chief award for Victory Oats by Nels Lindon of Wetaskiwin. The livestock exhibit that was made by the university of Alberta obtained numerous high honors, including the reserve grand championship in the finale of the single class. Many others came to the cattle sent from different parts of the province, while the showing made by the poultry raisers, in the face of strong competition from the rest of the dominion, was an excellent one. All the winners deserve heartfelt congratulations and the best thanks of their fellow Albertans for the service they have rendered the province through their enterprise.

West of the Great Lakes

THE growth of the Bank of Montreal has closely coincided with the gradual development of Canada from a small colony to a great Dominion. In the Bank's westward advance to the Pacific Coast, one of the important links in its trans-continental chain of branches was formed in 1896 at Winnipeg, when the Bank opened its first branch west of the Great Lakes.

This forward step, taken seven years before railway communication was opened up between Montreal and Winnipeg, made available to the incoming population on the prairies the stabilizing co-operation of a strong, conservative and at the same time energetic financial institution.

Of the Bank's 669 branches, 14 are in Winnipeg and 188 in the Prairie Provinces.

A Successful Municipal Hospital

(By Edna Kells)

Hospital settlement in Bassano, like Topsy of Uncle Tom's Cabin fame, just grew up! The Municipal hospital itself is a phase of the development of the country. Though situated on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, the Bassano district is of comparatively recent settlement. The land is included in the Canadian Pacific Railway's irrigation block, and there is no homesteading in that part of the country, for under arrangement with the Federal Government and the Hudson's Bay Company, the railway secured all the land between the Red River and the Bow, from Calgary to Tilley.

The fact that there is no homesteading in this part of the province works no hardship on the hospital. On the contrary, much of the land is still owned by the C.P.R. and that corporation never fails to pay its taxes. So, whatever comes or goes, the Municipal hospital at Bassano is sure of a large portion of its revenue. After ten years' operation, the hospital has a surplus of $84,000, including, of course, some uncollected accounts, for Bassano, like other places has to cope with the problem of the non-payer or transient patient who ignores his hospital bill.

According to statistics for 1928, Bassano hospital has the lowest death rate, the least number of hospital days per patient, and the lowest overhead expense of any hospital in Alberta. The death rate is less than one per cent, and there were no deaths among 96 maternity cases cared for during the year. The people have got away from their fear of the hospital, says a prominent Bassano doctor, who recommends that the government use every energy to develop the Municipal Hospital scheme and further the interest of these hospitals in Alberta.

In the early history of the district, a small private hospital was operated by a doctor; later this was purchased by the town, but it was always operated at a loss. The hospital was too small, and the overhead per patient too high. In 1919, the Municipal district was formed and the board took over the old hospital and enlarged it to make room for 18 beds. In 1928, a nurses' home was built and an isolation block with beds for four patients. This increased the hospital accommodation to 24 beds. Home and isolation block were built out of accumulated surplus at a cost of $16,000. The hospital is a frame building of the bungalow type, cosy, conveniently planned, and well equipped. A traveller for a big hospital supply house is quoted as saying that Bassano has the best equipped hospital under 30 beds in Canada.

The nursing staff consists of four graduate nurses, including the superintendent, Miss M. K. Patrick, and two undergraduate nurses. Maternity cases and surgery are "specialties" at the Bassano hospital. Nine babies have been in the hospital at one time. As many as four have arrived in one day. Doctors are only infrequently called to attend patients in their own homes, as the people have learned they can get better care and at less cost in the hospital, and they prefer going there.

Before the building of the hospital, the nearest hospitals were in Calgary and Medicine Hat, and this worked a great hardship on the people. Consequently, there has been little opposition to the Municipal hospital scheme, and that which existed was quickly dispelled when members of the opponent's families were stricken, and had to have hospital attention. The hospital rate is $1.00 per day for ratapayers, $3.50 for non-ratapayers. Land is taxed at the rate of 2-1/2 mills, and the townspeople whose tax does not amount to $6.00, pay the difference to secure the service.

PARLBRY-SHERET WEDDING

(Calgary-Herald)

A pretty wedding was solemnized on November 16th at 3 o'clock, when Jean, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Edward Hall Parlbry, of Long Valley ranch, Alix, was united in marriage to Robert Frank Alexander Sheret, of the Rev. F. H. Wilkinson officiating.

The bride, who was unattended, entered the church with her father, and was attired in a graceful gown of ivory crepe satin, with a severely plain bodice and skirt of uneven hemline made of lovely Brussels point applique lace which had been a part of her mother's and grandmother's wedding attire. Her veil was arranged becomingly with clusters of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of pink chrysanthemums.

The bridegroom was supported by John F. Hall Parlbry, brother of the bride. After the wedding a reception was held at the city home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Hall Parlbry chose for the occasion a gown of cream satin with contrasting hat of burnt orange velvet.

The bride's travelling costume was an ensemble of sapphire blue velvet with blue hat and shoes to match.

A Great Man Passes On

GEORGES CLEMENCEAU

The death of the man who was premier of France during the last year of the war and who was a large factor in determining the character of the peace settlement must stimulate powerful memories. Clemenceau deserved to an unusual degree the title of "organizer of victory" that was applied to one of his countrymen. We are only now beginning to realize how badly demoralized France was on its political side when he became the head of the government and for how much his iron will and resourcefulness counted in rallying all the forces of the nation to the prosecution of what had become a life and death struggle. Without his leadership and example, the outcome would in all probability have been quite different.

In this time of crisis he embodied French patriotism. For the task that he had to face he had the qualifications that come from a long experience with affairs of state. The various chapters of his picturesque career were all a training of the utmost value for the responsibilities that devolved upon him in the hour of acute national peril.

That, after it had passed and the Allied cause had triumphed, Clemenceau did not have his services recognized by election to the presidency of the republic was something that his admirers elsewhere found difficult to understand. It was a deep disappointment to him. But it has been subsequently demonstrated that it was wise to pass him over. His work was done and his reputation would not have been enhanced by his remaining to the fore during the reconstruction period.

Towards the movement to draw former enemy nations together and piece peace on a firm foundation, that has been under way in recent years and that has already accomplished so much, Clemenceau's attitude was one of profound cynicism. He has manifested it in everything that he has said and written. He belonged to an order of things that, we trust, passing away, never to return. But the way in which he played the part that fate thrust upon him over twelve years ago can never be forgotten. On "fame's eternal camping ground" his place is secure.

Hockey Notes

For the past twenty five years Lacombe has had an A1 hockey team. In the early days Lacombe's team ranked with the best on the line, in fact among the best in the Dominion. Lacombe has always been a hockey town and will always be. In going through the years, many names are recalled: players who were among the top notches in their days. Many in Lacombe now will remember the good old games when we had on our line-up "Billy" Stuart; Bill Reid; Gummy Watson; Lloyd Cook; Eddie King; Chalk; Del Garland; Dave Hay; Walter Flemming; Guy Danner; Neil Munn; and many others, in the days of the old seven man hockey. These players were the best in their days, and their great record will always be remembered by the old timers. But the teams of more recent date are keeping Lacombe's name intact. The teams of the past six years have always been classed among the best in Alberta, in fact, have won the Alberta Championship on four different occasions. This year will be no exception as the line-up that has been prepared will be equal to any we have ever had. Charles Graham, manager of the local team, is very optimistic about this year's team, and his players have been in training for the past few months and when they step onto the ice for their first game, they will be in first class shape. Work in connection with ice-making is well under way and the rink should be ready in a very few days. Hockey fans from near and far should be on the lookout for bills of the opening game, and arrange to be there. Everyone is assured of a real interesting match.

Mouth or Throat Infection!

Dampness, dust, exposure and excess smoking frequently cause infection of the mouth and throat. A single course part Absorbine, Jr., to nine parts water will bring quick relief. I'LL GET YOU WATER

After digging 14 wells in the last year, D. F. Belknap finds it just as easy to find water as ever. Why draw water 200 or 300 ft. for stock when it can be got from 10 to 60 ft. There has never been a better time to dig a well than this year for 30 years. As the small veins are most all dried up. D. F. Belknap.

4000 miles for a better crude

In far Peru—more than 4,000 miles from the station where you fill with Marvelube—Imperial Oil secures the rich petroleum from which this better motor oil inherits its lubricating superiority.

To bring this better crude to Canada in Imperial's own ships and transform it by special processes into Marvelube is an undertaking which is possible only because of Imperial Oil's immense resources and facilities.

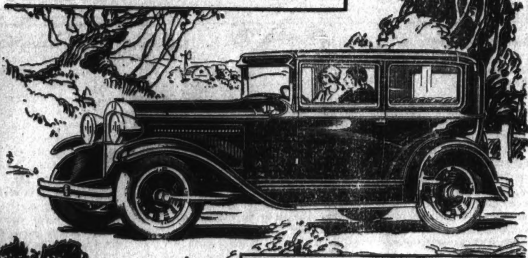

But Marvelube, a better oil because of the natural lubricating superiority of its carbon-free, sulphur-free base, is well worth the huge effort and investment. Marvelube is preferred by aircraft operators because it ensures a greater margin of safety in the air and gives longer periods between engine overhauls. It is the favorite oil of more than a half million motorists in Canada, because it ensures smoother, more powerful, more economical operation. There is a grade of Marvelube refined to meet exactly the specifications of your car, truck or tractor. See the Marvelube Chart at Imperial Oil stations and dealers.

Wheat Pool as It Now Exists

Following is the first of a series of articles by Mr. James Kinley, well known farmer of Lacombe District. It is not my desire or wish to criticize past conditions, for we are all more or less to blame for the situation of the world as it exists today; to which I may allude. Further on, I shall continue to work out the social and economic conditions more in detail.

I will endeavor to review the pooling system as it is formed at the present day. "The Pool System" if carried to a certain ending would be practical—that is if they could control the wheat until it is milled into flour and sold as bread to the consumer. In this way, it would eliminate all middle men having control over it, and this is the chief safeguard against any controlling influence over our products. This method would bring producer and consumer into closer relationship with each other, and effect a better understanding, which is very essential to trade.

We should appoint and control a committee in Europe or wherever we ship our products—a committee both to receive and distribute it.

There are some objections to the present pool method of marketing our grain. In the first place, the farmer does not know what he is going to get for his wheat till the final payment is made, which is some time as late as July following the harvesting of his crop. In the second place, he has to wait too long for his return, this makes it inconvenient for the merchants as well as the farmer. There are other objections to this method, one is that the Board have to borrow one hundred and fifty million dollars. It would require this amount to successfully finance the three provinces; it is possible to accomplish it with less, but owing to the strong competition in the world's markets, it would be essential for quick returns. The interest on this money would be quite a tax on the farmer's wheat.

In order to feed the market gradually, the pool would have to hold the wheat, only selling part of it at a time; possibly keeping part for six to eight months after it had been harvested, and as was the case in 1924-25, the initial payment represents only a little over 50 p.c. of the price paid by the outside market, this other 50 per cent. being divided up into two or possibly three payments to be paid any time between January and August. In the meantime, the farmer's obligations at the bank and at the stores would be overruled, and he might have to make another call at the bank in order to tide him over till these other pool payments arrive. His unpaid notes or bills would be accruing interest, therefore the value of the wheat to him would be reduced. Possibly in time, if this pool system of payments meets with satisfaction banks and merchants may give longer credits, thereby in a measure overcoming the difficulty.

The fact that, the pool at present sell their grain through the grain exchange, the same as other buyers, means that they are subject to practically the same laws of selling and are not in a position to command a much higher price than the outside buyer. The position that the Pool holds today, is that of another buyer in the Canadian market for the purchase of the farmer's wheat.

The patrons of the Pool should be informed from time to time, as to what sales have been made, and the amount of grain held for future sale; this would give more confidence to these patronizing the pool. Any system that pretends to work on a co-operative basis should keep its patrons fully informed as to what it is doing. Withholding of information soon creates distrust and dissatisfaction. The fact is that the pool is only an agent selling the grain for the farmers; it is the farmers' right that he be kept informed.

Some object to the farmer being in the market selling his goods, but no one has a better right to sell his produce than the farmer himself.

Not until the pool can control the wheat markets of the world and demand a paying price for it, will it meet the end so long looked for by the farmer. But even carried on as it is at present, it has many advantages over the system of speculators controlling the sale of the wheat.

"Say it with apples," Canadian Pacific Express Company, slogan for the sending of gifts by Canadians to friends in Great Britain and Europe, is being extended from Christmas and New Year presents to gifts sent at all times of the year. With the present bumper apple crop of Canada, the fruit can be bought at a reasonable price and its quality is of the highest. If sent overseas before the close of navigation on the St. Lawrence, cost will be considerably reduced.

Over 300 officers and men of the 4th Canadian Mounted Rifles first mounted regiment, formed in Toronto at the outbreak of the Great War, is holding its first reunion since the war at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, November 29 next. The unit is proud of the fact that it still has in its ranks T. Holmes of the province of Alberta, who captured an enemy machine gun nest singlehanded at Passchendaele.

An apple tree, over a hundred years old, remarkable for its symmetry and having this year produced 23 barrels of Calkin Pippin apples, is attracting much attention in the orchard of Dewey Morton, Lakeville, King's County, Nova Scotia. Mr. Morton picked apples from the same tree 45 years ago and it was then a fully grown tree. Today he believes it to be well over the century mark.

Elger is another farmer who came to Canada without capital and has made a striking success.

A man named Snelgrove held a meeting in the Cornet on Tuesday evening, and told his audience how Canada should be governed. Of course he knows. From some of his remarks he would like to start a war between Catholics and Protestants, and thinks the next election should feature his views. However, a man of the calibre of Snelgrove will not get a poor figure with the intelligent people of Alberta. We will probably have some interesting information on this subject next week, from Saskatchewan, where Snelgrove is fairly well known.

Resolution was passed that the Secretaries of each lodge form a committee to attend to any business arising during the year. Election of officers for the ensuing term resulted in Mrs. C. Todd being re-elected District Deputy President and Mrs. A. J. Sheridan, Secretary-Treasurer. A pleasant social followed over the lunch served by the Lacombe members.

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING
It is not too soon to remind people of the virtue of early Christmas shopping. We are probably all guilty to some extent of procrastination in this matter but it is sure delay always enables or will. The most virtuous of us must almost unavoidably overlook something and it would be no surprise to learn that the men who draw the little cartoons which appear daily in the newspapers about this time of year, urging us to do our Christmas shopping early, is not himself among those to reap the rewards of the virtues he preaches. If, however, it is necessary to concede that some delay is not always avoidable it is equally premissible to insist that most of it is entirely unnecessary.

Early Christmas shopping is a virtue which is its own reward. The early shopper avoids the discomfort of crowded stores. He does not have to elbow his way loaded with parcels through mobs of impatient, and increasingly irritable shoppers. He is able to select his goods from larger and more varied stocks; the later the shopping is postponed, the less there is to choose from until the last of the shoppers has to be satisfied with what he can get. It is much more pleasant to be waited upon by a patient, pleasant saleslady before the rush of the last week has shattered her nerves and made of her an irritable, cross-grained caricature of her former and normal self. There are fewer disputes about wrong goods and less uncertainty about getting the right change. The horrible doubt which comes with belated shopping of whether the goods can be delivered in time for Christmas—and be sure that the shopper who delays long runs this risk and no one but he is to blame—is absent when the annual purchasing expedition is launched early enough.

Here and There

History was made in Canada when Chief Bimbatowah Waiwah-kah (Hunting Deer) of the Ojibwas, met and greeted in all friendliness Chief Oacnooto (Deer) of the Ojibwas, at Carleton Place, Indian Reserve, near Montreal, recently. There is no record of these tribes ever having met before in Canadian history. The Ojibwa Chief is better known as Paul Cameron, head Indian guide for the past thirty years at Niagara Falls, northern Ontario. Neither could speak a word of the other's language and conversed through the medium of English.

Judges of the annual fishing contests held at French River, Nipigon and Devil's Gap (Lake of the Woods) bungalow camps, have announced the winners as follows:—W. H. Graf, of New York, and Frank S. Lunn, of Hammond, Ind., won the Nipigon trophy with a 74-lb. speckled trout, closely followed by Mrs. Bundy, of Kansas City, with a 7-pounder; and A. B. Jones, Jr., of Cincinnati, took the Devil's Gap trophy with a bass weighing 3 pounds, nine ounces.

The destinies of Canada and Japan together in the great Pacific Ocean, declared Hon. He was accompanied by Togo Fukuma, Japanese Consul-General, both of whom being on their way to Ottawa, where the former later delivered his credentials.

What is regarded as a record movement was made recently at the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool Elevator No. 7 at Port Arthur, when in 4½ hours, 550,000 bushels of wheat were transferred from the elevator to the hold of the steamship LeMayne. There were periods during the loading of the ship when the wheat was carried like a torrential golden river from the elevator at the rate of 2,666 bushels per minute.

Fifty different steamship lines now serve to carry Canadian products to every continent from the port of Vancouver, states a recent trade review issued by the Royal Bank of Canada. The review adds that in a period when the other great ports have had difficulty in maintaining their pre-war volume of trade, traffic through the port of Vancouver has experienced steady growth. From 122 ocean-going ships in 1913, the number increased to 1,344 in 1928. During the past year total trade of the port had a value of $260,000,000.

The largest sugar beet crop on record in Southern Alberta is being harvested in the Raymond district, reports of the industry. About 2,500 acres were sown to sugar beets this year, 2,000 more than in 1928, and the crop will on estimate yield about 55,000 tons or 23,000 above last year's production.

Cable advices from London state that Captain Ronald Stuart, V.C., D.S.O., U.S.N.C., R.N.R., commander of the Canadian Pacific liner "Duchess of York," has been officially selected to attend the Armistice Day ceremonies at the Cenotaph in London. Captain Stuart is one of the youngest and most capable men on the North Atlantic and the only passenger ship captain to wear the Victoria Cross. It is expected that he will also be present at the Prince of Wales' dinner to V.C.s.

"Bringing in the Boar's Head"

The Yuletide Festival inaugurated last year at Victoria was the most brilliant and successful yet. This coming Christmas, according to information from Canadian Pacific Railway headquarters. Those who were at the Empress Hotel last Christmas still remember the thrill that swept through the great hall when the boar's head was brought in, borne aloft by a staff in Elizabethan costume, preceded by a jester in cap and bells and followed by medieval pomp by stewards and minstrels. They still remember the dragging in of the Yule Log, the waltz, the singing of carols outside the Parliament Buildings, led by the Lieutenant-Governor of the Province in person. They tell to mind a week of merriment and good cheer which as some one happily described it, was peopled with rollicking old songs of the Christmas time. All these things will be seen again when the Festival starts Sunday December 22 and is continued until December 30. A fortnight later, with its locale also at the Empress Hotel, there will be held the Sea-Music Festival, January 15-18. Held at Vancouver last January, it will repeat many of the popular features then heard, including "The Order of Good Cheer," incorporating old French sea songs of the time of Champlain; "Bound for the Rio Grande," Frederick William Wallace's Sea-Chanty Ballad Opera. There will also be many new attractions with first-class singers and choirs, the whole under the musical direction of Harold Eustace Key.
